

Global Love China member profile

Personal Info:

|                                    |                                                                               |
|------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Name *                             | Hajni                                                                         |
| Born *                             | 1994                                                                          |
| Height (in cm) *                   | 170                                                                           |
| Languages you know *               | English, Hungarian                                                            |
| Nationality *                      | Hungarian                                                                     |
| Education                          | Makeup Artist                                                                 |
| Where you live *                   | Hungary- Budapest                                                             |
| Current Job                        | Hotel Front Desk Agent                                                        |
| Have you married before? *         | No                                                                            |
| Do you have any kid? *             | No                                                                            |
| Health condition *                 | I have asthma and am allergic to various plants, but otherwise, I am healthy. |
| Do you have any STDs? *            | No                                                                            |
| Your monthly income (in Euro)      | 960€                                                                          |
| Smoke or no                        | No                                                                            |
| Do you drink or no                 | I occasionally consume a small amount of alcohol.                             |
| Religious or no? if yes, which one | Christian                                                                     |

|                                                       |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
|-------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Your type of diet, vegan, vegetarian or eats meat     | I have food sensitivities to gluten, dairy, and chili.                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| Do you want to live in China?                         | It depends on the future; I have no problem with it, but my husband must be flexible about living in Europe. Since we will be an international couple, our children should know both cultures as a way of life.                                                         |
| What kind of food do you like?What you don't eat? | I like many things, although European cuisine is different from Chinese. I don't eat chicken feet, cartilage dishes, or anything that doesn't suit my European tastes. However, I am curious by nature and love trying new foods that align with my food sensitivities. |

The Man you expect:

|                                                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| His age range                                                                                                                                                               | 31-37                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| His Height                                                                                                                                                                  | Minimum 178cm                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| His education                                                                                                                                                               | The important thing is that he understands how to make money for the family and has business acumen. Due to language barriers, I won't be able to work in China, and I would also be focusing on taking care of the children and the family. |
| His monthly salary range (in Euro)                                                                                                                                          | 5000€ (it can change depends on his country)                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| Do you care if he can't speak English? Or poor English?                                                                                                                     | Have to be able to talk to me                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| Do you care if he married before?                                                                                                                                           | No , I don't care. It's on the past. But he can't have still relationship with the ex-wife.                                                                                                                                                  |
| Do you care if he has kid?                                                                                                                                                  | Yes, He can't have just with me only.                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| If he has a house or no?                                                                                                                                                    | Yes he have to                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| If he has a car or no?                                                                                                                                                      | Yes he have to                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| If he smokes or no?                                                                                                                                                         | No smoke                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| If he drinks or no?                                                                                                                                                         | Just on occasions                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| If he wants to stay in China or live elsewhere                                                                                                                              | For me okay to live in China as well but my husband must be flexible about living in Europe. Since we will be an international couple, our children should know both cultures as a way of life.                                              |
| Do you prefer to have a free trip to China to meet him or have him come to your country to meet you? If latter, we may need your help to get him a visa, would you help us? | First we can meet in China but I need some one next to me on the trip. Cuz I'm not feel safe alone as a woman. But later on he can also come to me. Anyway he have to meet with my family. He must get my parents' consent.                  |

|                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
|---------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Anything else you expect | My ideal husband supports me and our family. He wants children and should have a good relationship with my parents and siblings because they are the most important people to me. He should be open-minded so we can talk about anything, and he should love me. He should be romantic and always surprise me with something. He should be willing to teach me about his culture and family traditions and be patient with me. Loyalty is very important to me; I plan to marry once, and I want it to last a lifetime. He should also accept that I love him. It's important to me that he takes care of his appearance and stays fit, maybe by playing sports, but without overdoing it. He should be decisive and masculine but also kind-hearted. He should love dogs, especially since I have a Pomeranian. Since I am a foreigner, there are language barriers, and as a woman, I want to focus on children and family, so I won't be able to work. Therefore, my future husband should be very good at earning money |
|---------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|

If you're interested in her, please contact Pam:

WhatsApp: +86 17602866219

微信: pamviles (加请说明来意)

To see more members in our website:

www.pamviles.com

www.pamviles.com